
Centre for Language Studies National University of Singapore

The National University of Singapore (NUS) and the Academy of Korean Studies (AKS) invite applications for the following joint full-time faculty position in the Centre for Language Studies:

Lecturer for Korean Language

The Centre, under the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, currently teaches thirteen languages, mainly to undergraduates at elementary, intermediate and advanced levels.

Applicants for the position should have at least a Master's degree in the Teaching of Korean as a Foreign Language, Applied Linguistics, or other relevant disciplines with some experience in teaching Korean as a foreign language and in curriculum development at the tertiary level. The appointee's duties will include a wide range of teaching and developmental tasks for lectures and tutorials as well as course administration. Appointment will be made on a one-year contract, renewable subject to agreement between NUS/AKS and the appointee.

A monthly salary and allowances will be paid according to standard AKS guidelines. Standard leave, medical insurance and subsidised housing (applicable only to expatriate staff) will be provided by NUS. Applicants may contact the Centre if they have any queries.

Applications are to be made in English. Those interested in the position should submit a cover letter, a CV, a brief teaching philosophy statement, copies of educational certificates, samples of self-developed materials, and the names and contact information (postal and e-mail addresses, and fax numbers) of three academic referees. The application and all supporting documents are to be sent to:
